On 28 April 1968 Fort Meade's Engine 3 overturned at Rockenbach Road and Cooper Ave. Engine 3, an Army Class 530B. USA 8C7815, 1966 Kaiser-Fire Master was assigned to Fire Station No. 3 at Chamberlain Ave. and 13th St., and was staffed with military fire fighters who were part of the Army's Project Transition. The project allowed military personnel who were within 6 months of discharge a chance to train or revisit career fields as they return to civilian life. Within weeks of the accident the fire station was closed and the remaining Army personnel were assigned to Fire Station No. 2 at Tipton Army Airfield to complete their training.
